Protecting businesses in the technology sector

Businesses in the technology sector operate in a complex and continually evolving working environment which can carry enormous risks. If these risks aren't properly controlled, a business's ability to grow can be hampered.

As experts in the technology sector, we have spent years developing specialist insurance solutions by taking the time to listen to our clients' needs and working closely with sector experts and industry bodies, such as techUK.

Who can we help

The needs of a business will differ according to the specific stage in its development – be they start ups, scale ups or large global companies.

Our clients come from a wide range of specialisms and include:

- Fintech businesses
- Device and Consumable manufacturers
- App development
- Platform design
- Crypto exchanges/custodians

The risks your business faces

We can help you understand how your business may be affected by the following:

- Data breach
- Reputational damage
- Cyber attack
- Failure of product to perform function
- Computer fraud
- Professional Indemnity
- Product recall
- Intellectual property rights
- PSD2

Employee Benefits

The battle for talent is a major challenge for all businesses in the technology sector.

An innovative and cost effective Employee Benefits programme can help businesses to attract, retain and reward the high calibre employees who are so vital to their success.

Our services

We specialise in designing, implementing and managing reward strategies and have particular expertise in:

- Pensions
- Healthcare
- Group Life Assurance
- Employee Communication
- Employee Engagement
- Third Party Administration
- Online Flexible Benefits platform
